“ She was always "Mrs. Hall" to me.
She was among the kindest people on this earth.
She extended true Christian love to all around her.
An example for me.
But if anyone deserved to see a sterner side, it should have been me.
But it never lasted.
I will always remember her kind smile and unique quiet laugh that always gave away the true beauty of her soul.

“ To Roz, Arthur, Anthony, Tonia, and all the family.
We loved Aunt Nece. It was always an occasion when she came for a visit. The whole room was filled with laughter. The stories came thick and fast. She and my mother were so close. When I was a baby, she visited and I could not tell which one was my mother. I would look at her and stick out my hands, then look back at Mum and stick out my hands again. When we were older, she would arrive with recipes for us. Even the last time she visited, she gave me a recipe. We had a pot luck lunch at Angie and Marilyn's rental and told stories and laughed. She spread joy wherever she went. Everyone who met her loved her. She offered to visit with a challenged adult to allow her parents some free time. She would see a person sitting alone and start a conversation with them because they looked lonely. The world will be a sadder place without her. I can hear Uncle Ross as he greets her, "I'm glad you're finally here. Why didn't you bring my tractor?"

“ I have fond memories of Bernice when I was a student at Gordon College. I loved to visit them when I was lonely and missing Seal Cove, Grand Manan, NB. She and Ross made me feel so much at home and it didn't hurt she was a good cook. I loved "my home away from home" and her quick wit and the way she threw her head back in a delightful laugh.

Once my wife and I were headed for a wedding when our car over-headed on Rt 128 about a mile from their home. I instinctively knew they would know what to do: Ross repaired the car and Bernice made dinner. While we enjoyed her corned beef and cabbage, she said, "This is a lot more fun than a stuffy wedding!" We whole heartily agreed.

I also remember the delightful Bagley family picnics on King St and anticipate a wonderful reunion with Bernice and those who have gone to Heaven ahead of her. What a day of glad rejoicing that will be and can almost hear her say, "Isn't this a hoot!" Warm wishes and supportive prayers for the family and extended families.

“ No one can fill her shoes! Who modeled Christ's living better than Bernice? What a treasure! Someone who strived to live to please her God. Loved her & will miss her. Heaven is rejoicing.
